DECREE

PROVIDING THE ASSIGNMENT OF GIVEN SEA AREAS TO ORGANIZATIONS AND INDIVIDUALS FOR MARINE RESOURCE EXPLOITATION AND USE

Pursuant to the December 25, 2001 Law on Organization of the Government;

Pursuant to the June 21, 2012 Law on the Sea of Vietnam;

At the proposal of the Minister of Natural Resources and Environment;

The Government promulgates the Decree providing the assignment of given sea areas to organizations and individuals for marine resource exploitation and use.

Chapter I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1. Scope of regulation

1. This Decree provides the assignment of given sea areas in Vietnamese sea regions to organizations and individuals for marine resource exploitation and use under investment certificates, marine resource exploitation and use permits or decisions of competent state management agencies; and responsibilities of state agencies, organizations and individuals involved in the assignment of sea areas.

2. The assignment of sea areas for petroleum exploration and exploitation complies with the law on petroleum; the aquatic resource exploitation and the lease of sea surface for aquaculture comply with the law on fisheries; the assignment of sea areas for defense and security purposes complies with regulations of the Government.

Article 2. Subjects of application

This Decree applies to agencies, organizations and individuals involved in the assignment of sea areas, marine resource exploitation and use.

Article 3. Interpretation of terms

In this Decree, the terms below are construed as follows:

1. A given sea area means a part of Vietnam's sea, comprising water column, seabed and earth under the seabed, which is delimited with boundaries and planned for marine resource exploitation and use under law.

2. A 3-nautical mile sea region means a sea region with its outmost boundary lying at a distance of three nautical miles away from the average lowest sea level in many years in a parallel direction.

3. An inter-regional sea region means a sea region lying between two or more coastal provinces or centrally run cities; or between a 3-nautical mile sea region and a sea region beyond 3 miles.

4. Marine resource exploitation and use mean activities of acquiring marine resources or using marine resources for socio-economic development, national defense and security.

5. Investment certificates and marine resource exploitation and use permits or decisions are documents issued by competent state management agencies under specialized law, permitting organizations and individuals to exploit and use marine resources in the sea areas proposed for assignment.

Article 4. Sea area boundary and acreage

1. The sea area boundary and acreage are determined for every specific case on the basis of investment projects, investment certificates, marine resource exploitation and use permits or decisions of competent state management agencies as well as master plans and plans on use of sea areas.

2. A sea area is determined by line sections connecting angular points with specific coordinates and is demonstrated on sea charts of appropriate scales published by Vietnam People's Navy.

Article 5. Principles for assignment of sea areas

1. To ensure the integrated, unified, inter-sectoral and inter-regional management; to ensure the close combination between socio-economic development and marine environment protection; to economically and efficiently exploit and use resources, to protect the marine environment and ensure sustainable development,

2. To ensure the national interests, the interests of organizations and individuals lawfully exploiting and using marine resources in the assigned sea areas; to ensure security and safety and to protect the national sovereignty on the sea.

3. To ensure the conformity with natural rules and utility of sea areas.

4. A sea area can be assigned only to one organization or individual.

Article 6. Grounds for assignment of sea areas

1. The demand for use of sea areas for marine resource exploitation and use of organizations or individuals.

2. Sea use master plans and plans already approved by competent authorities. In case of unavailability of sea use master plans and plans, the assignment of sea areas must be based on sectoral or local master plans already approved by competent authorities.

3. Natural rules and utility of sea areas and marine resource and environment protection requirements.

Article 7. Sea area assignment duration

1. The duration of sea area assignment to organizations or individuals for marine resource exploitation and use is considered and decided for every specific case based on written request for sea area assignment, investment project or marine resource exploitation and use plan, in conformity with sea use master plans and plans, the permitted duration for marine resource exploitation and use under the investment certificates, permits or decisions of competent state management agencies. The maximum sea area assignment duration must not exceed 30 years, which can be extended for many times, but the total extension duration must not exceed 20 years.

2. Where the sea area assignment duration defined at Clause 1 of this Article expires while the organizations or individuals assigned the sea areas still need to continue with the marine resource exploitation or use and are permitted by competent state management agencies and the use of assigned sea areas conforms with the sea use master plans and plans, new decisions on sea area assignment will be considered and issued under this Decree.

Article 8. Finance related to sea area assignment

1. Organizations and individuals that are assigned sea areas for marine resource exploitation and use shall pay the sea area use levy under law.
2. The sea area use levy is determined on the basis of the sea acreages permitted for use, the sea area use duration and types of marine resource allowed for exploitation or use.
3. The Ministry of Finance shall assume the prime responsibility for, and coordinate with the Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment in, providing methods of calculating, mode of collecting, and regime of management and use of, sea area use levy.

Article 9. Prohibited acts

1. Abusing the use of sea areas to affect national defense or security, national interests, legitimate rights and interests of other organizations and individuals.
2. Exploiting or using marine resources without being assigned sea areas by competent state management agencies or authorities.
